5⅜ Per Cent

Compound Interest

—AND—

Security Unquestionable

From the San Francisco Journal of Commerce.

A GOOD INVESTMENT,

Better than Money in a Bank.

In new and growing communities money commands a high interest, but as a section becomes settled and capital accumulates, rates of interest fall. The savings banks of San Francisco paid 12 per cent. interest in 1870, while now they pay only 3¾ to 4½ per cent., which is about the same as Eastern rates. Heavy losses have taught our people the folly of mining stock speculation, and the present low rate of interest at the banks has caused prudent men to look about for some investment which shall be both safe and at the same time profitable.

One of the best ways of solving the problem is offered by the endowment plan of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. We can best show this by giving a practical example from the books of the company.

Policy No. 30,777, ten premium thirteen-year endowment, issued at age of 22, February 1, 1868, for $1,000, annual premium $85.50, on the life of Nicholas Dahinden, Milwaukee.

Mr. Dahinden received 5⅜ per cent. compound interest on his investment in a policy of the Northwestern Mutual Life, besides being insured for $1,000 and upward in case of his death, and furthermore, his money was as safe as if it had been in the best savings bank. Where can one find a better investment? The semi-tontine policies combine all the best features of sound life insurance.

It is the deliberate judgment of very many of the best business men of the country that the non-forfeiting semi-tontine of The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company is the best thing in the way of life insurance ever offered to the public.

CHARLESTON IN RUINS

Great Loss of Life and Property from the Earthquake.

A NIGHT OF WRECK AND HORROR

Forty Persons Killed and a Large Number Injured—Property Loss Probably $10,000,000—A Terrible Experience.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 1.—11 A. M.—An earthquake such as has never before been known in the history of this city swept over Charleston last night shortly after 10 o'clock, causing more loss and injury to property and far more loss of life than the cyclone of a year previously. Its wrecked streets are encumbered with masses of fallen bricks and [illegible] telegraph and telephone wires, and at an early hour it was almost impossible to pass from one part of the city to another. The first shock [illegible] the most severe. Most of the people [illegible] passed the night in the streets, which even this morning are crowded with people [illegible]. [illegible] persons were killed and [illegible]. Among the [illegible] fatally wounded are M. J. Lynch, Dr. [illegible] [illegible] in parts of the city [illegible] still [illegible] danger of their spreading. The [illegible] leaving the city at present.

[illegible]

The principal business portion of the city was [illegible] and hundreds of persons were rendered [illegible]. [illegible] The [illegible] station house, city hall [illegible] buildings including St. Michael's church are [illegible] damaged. Many people are seriously [illegible]. Broad street presents a spectacle [illegible] women [illegible] fought valiantly to rescue [illegible] unfortunates [illegible] street [illegible] is a wreck and is lined with [illegible]. The night was [illegible] with groans of the dying, groans of the wounded and prayers of the uninjured. It is impossible to estimate the extent of the losses of life and property at present, but up to [illegible] A. M. to-day [illegible] had been [illegible].

FEW [illegible] OPEN.

Not less than 100 houses in the city are [illegible] in open [illegible]. All stores are closed and a scarcity of provisions is feared because no one can be got to go to the stores to sell them.

Hardly a house in the city escaped injury and many were so damaged and cracked that a hard blow would bring them to the ground.

The shock was severe at Summerville and Mt. Pleasant, and on Sullivan's Island fissures are noticed from which sand apparently from a great depth exudes. A sulphurous smell is very noticeable.

Three or four fires started in as many sections with the first shock and very soon the town was illuminated with flames, thus leading all to believe that what was left by earthquake would be devoured by fire. However the fire department was so well divided and handled that the fires were under control by daylight.

Fully [illegible] to 150 residences and stores were consumed. The loss by fire and earthquake cannot be accurately estimated, but can safely be placed at $[illegible].

As far as could be ascertained during the night fifteen to twenty were killed and a much greater number wounded in all sorts of ways. The loss of human life will be great and it will take a day to get the accurate number. Shocks equally severe were felt at a distance of thirty five miles and have done inestimable damage to railroads and telegraph property. Charleston is now entirely isolated from the outside world.

A SCENE OF DEATH AND DESOLATION.

Two slight shocks of earthquake have been felt since the first, at 8:25 this morning and one at 1:30 P. M., neither doing any further destruction. Not even during Gen. Gillmore's bombardment of the city has there been such a deplorable state of affairs here. The city is literally in ruins and the people are living in squares and public parks. There is a great rush to the railroad depots to get away, but owing to the earthquake no trains are able to be dispatched from the city. Telegraph communication is all cut off [illegible] wire of the Southern telegraph company [illegible] messages.

It is impossible to [illegible]. [illegible] the killed and wounded [illegible] constantly [illegible] from the debris of wrecked houses. One undertaker was interviewed and stated that he had furnished eight coffins [illegible]. Many of the dead are lying [illegible] of the poorer classes of colored people, who [illegible] buried by the county. There are not half a dozen tents in the city and the women and children are experiencing great privations in consequence. As night approaches most heads of families are trying to construct tents out of bed sheets, spare awnings and other material that comes to their hands. The [illegible] is about to set upon what is feared may be another night of horror, even without any other [illegible] shock of earthquake. It is [illegible] that [illegible] city will have to be [illegible] entirely if the houses are to be inhabited.

WORSE AND WORSE.

RICHMOND, Sept. 1.—A dispatch from Charleston dated [illegible] M. says at 8:25 this morning another wave swept over the city, coming as did the first from the southeast, moving [illegible] west direction. By this time the people who had been out in the public parks and open places all night had ventured into their houses to get their clothing and something to eat. The approach of the quake was heralded by the usual rumbling [illegible] resembling distant thunder. [illegible] the earth quivered [illegible]. In three seconds it had passed [illegible] distance. [illegible] the destruction having been [illegible].

The city [illegible] St. Michael's church and St. [illegible] church, [illegible] the [illegible] hall, the [illegible] station and many other public buildings [illegible]. It is impossible to give a correct estimate of the casualties. It is believed that twenty and one hundred persons have been killed and several hundred wounded. At the time of the first shock fires broke out in five different places in the city and about twenty houses were destroyed by fire.

THE [illegible]

SAVANNAH, Sept. 1.—Efforts to enter Charleston have been made from all points and have failed. On the island the shock was more severely felt than in the city. People on the island rushed from their houses to the beach. The oscillation lasted for several minutes. The lantern lenses in the lighthouse were broken and the machinery of the lamp disarranged. The keeper hurried up to the tower and as soon as possible arranged a temporary light which will have to answer until the lighthouse supply ship reaches here. People on the beach ran hither and thither, not knowing where to go and fearing that every moment a tidal wave would sweep over. The water was agitated and waves rose high on the beach. Houses on the beach swayed to and fro and rocked as if they would fall to pieces. A telephone message to the News from Tybee station at 8 o'clock this morning stated that the people were still gathered on the beach.

ANOTHER NIGHT OF TERROR.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 1.—Women and children are running about in the open air terribly agitated. There are three or four steamers in port, including the buoy tender, and many of the inhabitants are provided with berths in these boats. Fortunately the weather has been good and hardships are not as severe as they might have been. The situation however is becoming horrible. Cut off from communication with the rest of the world, afflicted and haunted with a prospect of immediate death, that is about the condition of this community. No trains have departed or arrived here in twenty four hours. It is said that all railroads leading into the city are [illegible]. The statement is made that all the railway tracks are twisted into the shape of snakes.

WRAPPED IN GLOOM.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 1.—The city is wrapped in gloom and business is entirely suspended. People generally remain in the streets, in tents and on improvised shelter and will camp out to-night, fearing another shock. The gas works are [illegible] and probably the city will be without light to-night.

RELIEF FOR CHARLESTON.

SAVANNAH, Sept. 1—Noon.—A relief train has been dispatched to Charleston from this city.

MORE SHOCKS REPORTED.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 1.—At 11:01 P. M. It is reported that earthquake shocks of a mild character have been heard and felt within the last hour, passing to the west of the city. All that is now reported is that the shock threw down several houses.

Owing to the demoralized condition of everything here it is impossible to give correct facts at [illegible] this. The number of casualties has not been ascertained precisely, from thirty to forty killed and [illegible] one hundred injured. The loss to property will probably reach $8,000,000 or $10,000,000. Three fourths of the buildings in the city will have to be rebuilt. There was very little shipping in port and none of it was injured. The disturbances have not affected the water in the harbor, although it is unknown that all the shocks came from an easterly direction and therefore from the sea. There are no signs of a tidal wave as yet.

11:50.—Another shock has just occurred, more severe than any since last night at 9:50, knocking down several houses.

A GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION

Thrilling Account of the Disaster Written by a Resident of the City.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 1.—Compositors on the News and Courier declined to work to-night, expecting fresh shocks of earthquake, and the paper cannot be issued to-morrow. The following article was prepared for publication by the News and Courier and telegraphed almost in the writer's own words:

Necessarily the description that can be given of the disaster which has befallen our city consists of a narration of the experiences and observations of individuals, and the subject being the same and the experience of all being nearly alike, the story told by one careful observer will stand for a hundred others with slight variations. Probably the [illegible] had of the character [illegible] may be obtained from [illegible] of the scenes of Wednesday night as they were presented to a single person who [illegible].

THE FIRST SHOCK.

[illegible] walls and [illegible] visibly swayed to and fro [illegible] of falling masses of stone and brick and mortar was heard overhead and without [illegible] filled the earth and seemed to fill the heart with awe [illegible] thought. For a few panting breaths, or while you held your breath in dreadful anticipation of immediate and cruel death, you felt that life was already past and waited for the end as the victim with his head on the block waits the fall of the uplifted ax. It is not given to many men to look in the face of the destroyer and yet live, but it is little to say that the groups of strong men who [illegible] the experience above faintly described will carry with them the recollection of that supreme moment to their dying day. None expected to escape.

INTO THE STREET.

A [illegible] rush was simultaneously made to endeavor to attain the open air and flee to a place of safety, but before the door was reached all reeled together to the tottering wall and stopped, feeling that hope was vain, that it was only a question of death within the building or without, to be buried by the sinking roof or crushed by the tottering walls.

The uproar [illegible] died away in seeming distance, the earth was still, and how blessed the relief of that stillness, but how rudely the silence was broken as we dashed down the stairway and out into the street. Already on every side arose the shrieks and cries of pain and fear, the prayers and wailings of terrified women and children commingled with the hoarse shouts of excited men.

Out in the street the air was filled to the height of the houses with a cloud of dry stifling dust from lime and mortar and shattered masonry, which falling upon the pavement and stone roadway had been reduced to powder. Through this cloud [illegible] as lights flickered dimly, should [illegible] faint light that you distinguished at every step over piles of brick or became entangled in lines of telegraph wire that [illegible] suspended in every direction [illegible].

THE [illegible]

On every side were [illegible] forms of men and women [illegible] partially dressed, some [illegible]. Here a woman is supported fainting in the arms of her husband, who vainly tries to soothe her while he carries her into an open space, a street corner where present safety seems assured. There a woman lies on the pavement with upturned face and outstretched [illegible].

THE CITY IN FLAME.

St. Michael's [illegible] square, not especially [illegible] New York [illegible]. Over the motley half dressed throng was shed the lurid light of a conflagration which had broken out just beyond the square [illegible] after the first shock and had now enveloped several buildings in flames. In three other quarters of uptown at the same time similar large fires were observed under headway, and the awful significance of [illegible] may be most fully appreciated perhaps when it is said that with these tremendous fires [illegible] up all around them and threatening the property with total destruction, the people with whom you met on the streets or gathering together in groups in open spaces evidently did not give them a thought. No one [illegible] the ruddy [illegible]. All were too intent on listening with strained senses for a dreaded occurrence, a terrible growl or groan of power [illegible].

A PLACE OF REFUGE.

Crowds poured in from every direction to the square just described, as though it had been indeed a charmed circle or life depended on passing within the grassy bounds. Street cars, carriages and other vehicles were ranged in lines on the streets surrounding the square, with horses [illegible]. [illegible] Their declarations of alarm in the singing of hymns and fervent appeals for mercy, in which appeal God knows many a proud heart who heard them arising in the night and in the hour of his wondrous might devoutly and humbly and sincerely joined.

Danger brings all of us to the level of the lowest. There was no distinction of place or power, pride or caste in the assemblages that were gathered together in Charleston on Tuesday night. It was a curious spectacle to look back upon. It is good to remember for white and black alike. There were instances of unselfish devotion, kind and loving regard between master and servant, mistress and maid in the presence of common ill and threatened ruin that show [illegible] strong is the tie that binds [illegible] white [illegible] black [illegible] the dread visitor [illegible] hope [illegible] never be forgotten.

WAITING FOR THE DAWN.

[illegible] at his home the writer found the same [illegible] distraction and wreck which marked every home in the city. All the [illegible] the neighborhood had suffered serious [illegible] the [illegible] yards and gardens were all filled with fallen chimneys and fragments of walls [illegible]

[illegible]

A FULL REPORT.

Effect of the Shock—A Partial List of the Dead and Injured.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 1.—[illegible] The experiences of Captain Dawson [illegible] brick residence in Bull street [illegible]. Capt. Dawson was in his room in the second story when the first shock occurred. The house seemed to rise and literally to turn on its axis. The first shock was followed by a second and a third, less severe than the first. The air was filled with cries and shouts of women and children. From every side of that neighborhood came the cry, "Help!" "God save us!" "Oh my God!" It was worse than the worst battle of the war.

When the first agony was over it was found that the ceiling of every room in the house was cracked, the [illegible] ceiling was broken apart and a tank in the attic was pouring its flood of water in the bedrooms. In the parlors articles had been wrenched from their cases and thrown to the floor. [illegible] a [illegible] lamp had not even been turned [illegible]. In front of the house was a lofty porch with tall pillars and with heavy marble steps. All this was swept away as though it had been [illegible] with a razor. [illegible] was Capt. Dawson's experience was hundreds of others in Charleston.

There were five shocks diminishing in violence from the first. Sidewalks and streets were dotted with mothers, wives and daughters with their protectors, awaiting in anxious expectation still another agony. The air was thick with horror [illegible] and the [illegible] glare of fire but high [illegible] the general ruin.

THE DEAD AND WOUNDED.

Among the casualties are the following: Mrs. Williams jumped from second story of her residence at the corner of Wentworth and Wheeling streets and injured her spine badly.

Mrs. Galliot, colored, was struck by a brick opposite Pavilion hotel and her head was badly injured. Her daughter was also badly hurt in the same way.

Mrs. Robert Martin, wife of a shoe merchant on Market street near King, was badly hurt.

Mr. M. J. Lynch was desperately hurt in front of his son's store in Meeting street. A store of great weight fell upon him and broke one of his legs [illegible]. He was taken to a place of safety in what was thought to be a dying condition. [illegible]

[illegible]

Among those who were killed were [illegible] Miller, colored, and another colored woman, both of whom were crushed under the fallen portion of [illegible].

On Mary street near Meeting a house was shattered down, but all the inmates escaped except a [illegible] colored child named [illegible] Fraser, who was crushed to death.

[illegible] first shock came a wagon [illegible] two men was passing the corner of [illegible] and King streets when the gable end of a store [illegible] fell and covered the unfortunates with debris, one of whom was killed. It was very late when [illegible] extricated and it was impossible to ascertain the person's name.

At [illegible] o'clock this morning the body of a colored woman was taken out from the debris at the corner of Meeting and Broad streets. It proves to be the body of Mrs. Jacob Middleton. The unfortunate woman must have been passing just as the last wall of the building fell. About that time two gentlemen who were near the Pavilion hotel heard piercing cries for help. They went down Hasel street in the direction of the cries and found a white man [illegible] had burned in the ruins in the Lazarus building. They were extricated and sent to the hospital.

AT VARIOUS PLACES.

AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1.—There was a decided difference in the severity of the earthquake shock in different buildings and in different parts of the city last night. Many people did not observe it at all. The largest building in the city, and one of the strongest government buildings, rocked visibly with three distinct vibrations. Large [illegible] cracked and mirrors were broken. In several [illegible] in the city the vibrations were [illegible]. Dishes were thrown from cupboards and articles fell from mantles while chandeliers swung [illegible] as if by a strong wind. Probably twenty or thirty meetings of lodges and societies were broken up without motion to adjourn. At the old [illegible] building on Court street plastering on the [illegible] was broken almost entirely. The shock was [illegible]

AT COLUMBIA.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 1.—At [illegible] last night this city was visited by a terrible earthquake. The first two shocks were fearful. Buildings swayed from side to side and the earth rose and fell like the waves of the ocean. People rushed madly from their houses into the streets. Some sprang from windows and were injured. The experience of those in buildings at the time of the first shock was that of being rocked as if in a ship at sea. Many of the most substantial buildings were shaken to their foundations and walls cracked and sprung. Five minutes after the first shock a second came and ten minutes later a third. Other shocks followed until 1:05 A. M., when an eighth shock was felt, and this one lasted for a minute [illegible]. At 4 this morning the ninth came [illegible] A. M. the city was again made to tremble. Very little sleep was had by anyone [illegible] Columbia. Negroes thought the end of the world had come and they held prayer meetings on street corners.

SEVENTEEN SHOCKS IN GEORGIA.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 1.—A special telegram to the [illegible] last night was [illegible] of terror. Seventeen shocks of earthquake occurred during the night. At 9:50 last night the town was thrown into a state of terror and excitement by a general shaking of houses everywhere. The tops of chimneys were shaken off, clocks stopped, mirrors were torn from their fastenings and things were shattered generally. This was followed by other shocks at regular intervals of five minutes. Ten shocks had occurred when all was quiet until 10:10, when four slight shocks followed each other in quick succession. Again at 4:40 this morning another shock occurred. Everybody rushed into the streets at the first shock and remained there all night. Negro church bells were rung and thousands of colored people congregated there and remained in prayer all night.

ANOTHER TOWN ALMOST DESTROYED.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 1.—J. H. Averill of the South Carolina railroad telegraphs from Summerville that many persons have been killed and hundreds are homeless. The whole business portion of the city is totally wrecked.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 1.—Summerville, twenty two miles from Charleston, was nearly destroyed by earthquake last night. [illegible], S. C., Sept. 1.—The railroad is under water in some places between here and Charleston [illegible] five miles north of here and the earth has [illegible] several places.

THE SHOCKS OF LAST FRIDAY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The earthquake Tuesday [illegible] which carried destruction and death to Charleston was preceded by other shocks beginning early last Friday, which were felt both in South Carolina and Georgia. The Sunday issue of the Charleston News and Courier contains two columns describing an earthquake and its effects in Summerville, where according to these accounts the earthquake was first and most severely felt. Is the health resort of Charleston. A coincidence worthy of note is that the earthquake in Greece probably occurred on Friday, as the first news of it was received [illegible].

Sexton Moves an Amendment to the Address in Reply to the Queen's Speech—The Bulgarian Crisis—Etc.

LONDON, Sept. [illegible]—The weather was brilliant and most favorable for the race between Beach and Teemer. The tide was fast in the right direction and the wind very light, not one ripple on the water. The crowd was the greatest that ever gathered [illegible]. Both men appeared [illegible]. IN THE COMMONS.

Sexton Moves an Amendment to the Address in Reply to the Queen's Speech.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—In the commons [illegible] Sexton [illegible] the address in reply to the speech as follows: "We humbly represent [illegible] riots in Belfast [illegible]"

In offering the amendment Sexton denied that he had acted contentiously. He charged that the riots in Belfast had been conceived and prosecuted in the interests of the present government. (Cheers.) He demanded that the government restore order in Belfast now and not await the results of a protracted inquiry by a commission. Six hundred poor Catholics had been deprived of a livelihood through political intrigue. He was not aware that any Protestants had been treated similarly. He asked Lord Randolph Churchill what the government proposed to do to induce Protestant employers of Belfast to fulfil their duty and re-employ the Catholics they had discharged. It was [illegible] to correct these riots with the question [illegible]. With or without home rule riots [illegible] unless the government brought those [illegible] disorder to book. (Cheers.) [illegible] forces promptly and [illegible] as they were used in Hyde park, London, Amsterdam, Chicago and elsewhere. Lord Randolph Churchill's last speech had tended to excite a spirit of disloyalty among the people, and he believed the riots were got up in order to influence the division of the house on the home rule bill in the house of commons and to affect the result of the general election. (Cheers.)

Sexton concluded by asking Churchill what he intended to do to remedy the frightful consequences of his own acts. (Cheers.)

Sir Michael Hicks Beach denied absolutely that Churchill's action had in any wise led to the Belfast troubles. He feared the difficulty of the position would be materially increased by Sexton's statements, and he earnestly implored the Parnellites to refrain from saying anything that would be likely to provoke the unfortunate feeling which had originated the riots. He warmly praised the admirable manner in which the constabulary of Belfast had acted. The chief secretary expressed a hope that members of the house would assist the government to the utmost in the difficult task which has confronted them and await patiently the results of the royal commission investigation [illegible] the government would know what course to [illegible].

THE BULGARIAN CRISIS.

THE LEADING SPIRIT ARRESTED.

SOFIA, Sept. 1.—Sankoff, the Russian who was [illegible]ding spirit in the recent revolution, has been arrested and placed under strong guard, the members of which have been ordered to keep him under constant surveillance, as it is feared he may commit suicide. The revolutionary troops retreated to the heights of Sofia, which they occupied. Loyalist troops surrounded them, compelled them to surrender and then disarmed them, placing the officers under arrest.

PORTLAND, THURSDAY, SEPT. 2, 1886.

BULGARIA AGAIN.

Bulgaria is nominally a dependency of the Turkish empire. In reality Turkey's hold upon it is about as feeble as its hold upon Egypt. The outlying provinces of this decaying empire are in fact in a condition of semi-independence, or under a sort of protectorate exercised by the great powers of Europe. The people of Bulgaria are of the Selavic race and belong to the Greek church. They have nothing in common with the Turks, who are merely intruders and conquerors. But the subjugation of Bulgaria by the Turks dates back nearly five hundred years. Affinities with Russia would long ago have made Bulgaria a Russian province in name as it is in fact, but for the jealous feeling of the Western powers toward Russia. After the last war between Russia and Turkey Great Britain stepped in and took the lead in preventing the absorption of Bulgaria by Russia and its incorporation into the Russian empire. The treaty of Berlin, in which British influence under the direction of Disraeli was predominant, gave Bulgaria a ruler in Prince Alexander. Russia acquiesced; but it is plain that Russia did so only to await her opportunity to make Bulgaria a province of her own great empire.

Though Russia has declared that the recent revolution in Bulgaria is disapproved by her, there can hardly be a doubt that the revolution was brought about by the action of Russian agents. Bulgaria, owing nominal allegiance to the porte, but in reality an independent province under a sort of European protectorate, is a check to Russian intentions in the direction of Constantinople. It is plain that the desire of Russia is to get rid of the barriers to her ambition erected by the congress at Berlin. The latest news declares that this affair in Bulgaria will bring on a general European war. The only thing that can produce a war is determination on the part of Russia to make Bulgaria a province of her empire—an act that would bring her territorial limits within one hundred miles of the Bosphorus.

It is probable that the new tory government in England will take high ground upon this matter, both as a means of asserting the "jingo" policy of their party and an expedient for turning the minds of the people of Great Britain away from the troublesome Irish question. It is an old device of politicians to try to escape political difficulties at home by rushing into complications abroad.

THE INTERNATIONAL YACHT RACE.

The annual ocean race between American and English yachts for the America's cup is a thing that always touches our national sensibilities, and even on this coast there is a lively popular interest in the contest soon to come off at New York. In this contest the conditions will be as nearly perfect as they can be made, and it is believed that it will afford a conclusion to international supremacy in this sport, if not final, at least for some years to come. The American interest is to be represented by the Mayflower, a new yacht which in two trial races has shown herself pre-eminently the superior of all the old boats, including the Puritan, which carried off the honors last year. She was designed especially for this contest, and embodies in perfection the American idea of yacht construction. On the other hand, the Galatea, which has come over to try for the cup, is not less representative as a type than the Mayflower. She, too, was built for this race, and represents the English idea of what a yacht should be. The race is likely to be very close, and is certain to attract great interest on both sides of the Atlantic.

"Agitation" in China against the Christians is producing about the same results as the "agitation" in America against the Chinese. Outrages and massacres are reported in China, perpetrated upon Americans and Europeans there, which resembles the work of our own enlightened people at Tacoma, Seattle and Rock Springs. But there will have to be a great deal of outrage and murder in pagan China, before that country catches up with similar outrage and murder in Christian America. The lesson is that our "agitators" and the lowest, most ferocious and most brutal portion of the population of China are on about the same plane.

Charleston (S. C.) is badly wrecked by an earthquake. Had this calamity occurred just twenty-five years ago what a remarkable "visitation of Providence" it would have been! Napoleon Bonaparte, in his Egyptian campaign, came near being engulfed in the Red sea. Speaking long afterwards of the manner of his escape, which was due to his extraordinary intelligence, he remarked: "Had I been drowned in the Red sea every journal and every pulpit in England would have paralleled the accident with the destruction of Pharaoh."

We have seen a copy of what purports to be a proclamation by the governor of Alaska, reciting the allegation that certain "ill-disposed and jealous-minded" persons at Sitka have been making "disparaging remarks and injurious insinuations" against an Indian woman, niece of the head chief of that region, and warning all such to "cease their slanders, under penalty of summary arrest, fine and imprisonment." The document strikes us as a somewhat unusual, not to say "irregular" one.

A city that will elect such a man as "Dick" Gerdes to its council deserves all the discredit and damage that can come to it through his absurd propositions. Of course there is not another member of the council who will favor the scheme to tax ships, but from the mere fact of the introduction of such a measure the report will go out that Portland is making war on commerce.

The council did well to lay over for further consideration the proposition made by Mr. Morey for lighting certain streets with electricity. We are told that the Pacific Coast Electrical Construction company intends to bid for this same service, and it is more than likely that the Portland Gaslight company will also put in a bid. There is no need to go about the business in haste.

The railways have advanced the carload rates for fruit from California to the East. For grapes to Chicago by passenger trains the tariff is now $600 per car. Oranges to Denver are $140 per car. California papers say the advance will bring disaster to fruit growers.

Mr. Gerdes's plan is incomplete. Let us not tax ships alone, but lay also a tax on every man in the country who builds a house, makes a bridge or chops down a tree. Let nothing in the way of enterprise be spared excepting rum holes and gambling dens.

The California legislature will reassemble on the 7th inst. and make another effort on the irrigation question. If it can still do nothing its members can attend the state fair, which will then be going on.

Councilman Gerdes's scheme to lay a heavy tax upon ships visiting this port is just about as practicable and worthy as would be a proposition to lay another bar in the river channel below Portland.

If Gerdes and his gang would pay the amounts due for whisky license the city would not need money. By the way, can't Mr. McGinn do something to bring these delinquents to the scratch?

The proposition made by Councilman Gerdes to tax commerce is what might be expected from a man who objects to taxation of the liquor traffic.

MORE RECRUITS FOR UTAH.

Arrival of Three Hundred Converts at Castle Garden—A Number Detained.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Three hundred and one Mormons arrived at Castle Garden yesterday on the steamship Wyoming. Ninety-three were English and the remainder mostly Scandinavians. Commissioner Stevenson detained fifty Mormons for examination. Those detained were husbands who had left their wives behind; wives who had forgotten to bring husbands, and children who had been taken away from parents. About forty of them will probably be sent back. Commissioner Stevenson intends to make this a test case.

POLICY OF THE OFFICERS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—"Three hundred Mormons arrived on the Wyoming," was the message from Castle Garden that woke up immigration commissioners Starr and Stephenson yesterday morning. These anti-Mormon citizens made up their minds to make things hot for the Mormons, and they hastened to Castle Garden. When the Wyoming passengers were landed all the gates were closed, and no one was permitted to go out or to enter the rotunda. At the registration desks the commissioners asked each man or woman individually where he or she was going. Five modest looking English girls were nearly thrown into hysterics when told the kind of life they would lead in Utah. Over fifteen of the immigrants were detained, and will be sent back as paupers, unless bond for $500 is given in each case as security that they will not become dependent upon the city or county.

Commissioner Starr said: "We have been criticized in regard to admitting polygamists here, and we have determined to take a step that no other commissioners ever dreamt of. I mean not to recognize church immigration by wholesale, but only as individual immigration. I guess we won't have many Mormons landed at Castle Garden again in a hurry. We have law on our side this time."

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

ILLINOIS REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 1.—The republican state convention met to-day and nominated two candidates for state offices, as follows: For state treasurer, J. R. Tanner; for superintendent of public instruction, Richard Edwards. The platform adopted favors the use of the public domain for homesteads for actual settlers; endorses protection of American labor and denounces the doctrine of free trade; declares outrageous the importation of Chinese labor, and pronounces convict labor an injustice to the honest laborer, and demands the enactment of such laws as will prevent it; denounces socialistic and anarchistic societies; arraigns the democratic administration for failing to keep its pledges, and denounces Cleveland's pension vetoes, and calls attention to the failure of this government to protect American citizens in Canada when their rights were being infringed by the British government, while in its pretended efforts to protect an American citizen in a weak country like Mexico it has made the American nation ridiculous in the eyes of all nations.

THE MONUMENT NOT AFFECTED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Mr. Green, Col. Casey's assistant in charge of the Washington monument, has been making scientific observations of the structure, or, in technical phrase, "leveling" it today, with a view to noting any change in position. This procedure is undertaken on the first day of every month, but that of to-day has attracted more than usual attention because of a desire to know whether the earthquake affected the structure. Observation proves that the shaking had not the slightest effect upon the monument.

Prof. W. J. McGee of the geological survey leaves to-night for Charleston, S. C., to make a scientific study of the effect of the earthquake at what now appears to have been the center of disturbance.

OF WIDE EXTENT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Prof. Mendenhall, of the signal service, has made a study of earthquakes for years, and has felt a number of severe shocks in Japan. He says of last night's shock, that while it was not especially severe it was nevertheless the worst he ever experienced. He expresses surprise at the wide extent of the phenomenon, and thinks it likely that when reports are in it will be found that the area is larger than that of any previous earthquake of which there is record. Upon a globe ten inches in diameter, he says, one can usually cover the area of an earthquake, even a severe one, with the end of his little finger, but this one seems to have affected half a continent, and we don't know how much more.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—It is estimated at the treasury department that the public debt statement will show a reduction of about $1,250,000 for the past month. The small reduction is attributed to heavy and extraordinary payments authorized by congress, but on the other hand receipts have exceeded the average for August by nearly $5,000,000.

Decrease of the public debt during the month, $1,910,039 02; total debt, less available cash, $1,451,704,141 77; net cash in treasury, $76,527,541 24; total cash in treasury, as shown by treasurer's general account, $474,270,661 71.

RAILROAD BRIDGE BURNED.

LEAVENWORTH, September 1.—The bridge spanning the Missouri at Fort Leavenworth, was burned to-night. It was an iron structure, but the floor and a mile of trestle were destroyed, entailing a loss of over $100,000. The fire originated at the west end of the bridge, and wind drove the flames on until the entire woodwork and trestle approaches on the Missouri side were consumed. It was impossible for the firemen to render any assistance in putting out the flames. This is the only means which the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific have of reaching this city.

HANLAN DEFEATS COURTNEY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Hanlan defeated Courtney in the boat race at Rockaway beach this afternoon.

ROCKAWAY BEACH, Sept. 1.—The three mile race between Hanlan and Courtney took place in Jamaica bay to-day. The result was a decisive victory for the former, who distanced his opponent by seven lengths. Though the public were led to believe the race was to be a bona fide test of the merits of the contestants, and not simply an exhibition race, it was nothing more nor less than the latter, if the statement of Courtney, made previous to the event, be credited. However, the object of the promoters was gained, a crowd of 20,000 being attracted. Hanlan won as he liked, in 19 minutes 21½ seconds, beating his best previous record 1½ seconds.

Heathorn's boot and shoe factory on Government street was totally destroyed, with adjoining business premises occupied by Ferguson, stationer; Leask & Morrison, tailors; Kearn's billiard parlors, and L. E. Prince, barber. Total loss, $100,000, on which is insurance of about $37,000. Much of the stationer's and tailors' stock was rescued in a damaged condition. The fire created great alarm, as it was in the heart of the business part, adjoining the postoffice.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—Chairman White called the democrats to order at 10:30 A. M. The committee on permanent organization and order of business have decided this morning to recommend that a majority of the delegates voting shall constitute a nomination. The outlook before the opening of the convention is that there will be no ballot taken to-day on governor. The platform, it is believed, will cause a long and heated discussion.

Judge Sullivan of San Francisco was nominated for supreme justice, long term.

Judge Jackson Temple of Sonoma was nominated for supreme judge for the short term.

The Sixth congressional district delegates met to-day and nominated Joseph D. Lynch of Los Angeles candidate for congress on the democratic ticket.

A Cure of Pneumonia.

Mr. D. H. Barnaby, of Owego, N. She was in this condition when a friend recommended DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and advised her to try it. She accepted it as a last resort, and was surprised to find that it produced a marked change for the better, and by persevering a permanent cure was effected.

CHINA.

WHOLESALE MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 1.—Advices from Ching Foo Foo, chief city of the province of Le Chuen, state that the natives of the eastern part of that province and those of Northern Cochin-China have risen against the Christians and are massacring them and destroying their property. This active persecution is attributed to the imprudence of English and American missionaries in Cochin China. About fifty Christians have been killed, their houses burned, and farms destroyed. In Le Chuen a general massacre of Christians is reported to be in progress, and they are killed wherever found. Villages occupied by Christians have been destroyed, and all lands occupied by Christians are being devastated. The apostolic vicar's residence in Le Chuen has been burned to the ground. Not a piece of furniture nor a book nor paper was saved. The foreign consuls barely escaped from Le Chuen with their lives. No efforts are being made, up to the latest reports, to quell the disorder, and so far as known, it continues unsuppressed.

BUSINESS AT MANCHESTER.

MANCHESTER, Sept. 1.—The Guardian in its commercial article says: "Business is moderate and inactive. Producers are pressed to sell. Prices are steady, but still have a tendency to occasionally favor buyers. Unexecuted contracts now on hand are sufficient to give sellers a solid substratum of strength. The market has also sustained a moderate addition of fresh force. Business at this period of the year is unusually feeble on account of holidays in the principal spinning districts, but the inaction does not indicate depression. The export market is suffering especially. Stocks are heavy and the extreme lowness of prices prevents the pressing of sales. The cloth business is not up to average. Shirtings are dull. A moderate business is doing in jaconettes. These are well under contract. Practically the same may be said of printing and other finishing cloths and heavy goods.

DILKE NOT IN CANADA.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The report of the arrival of Sir Charles Dilke in Canada is declared to be untrue. It is said he is still in France.

CANADA.

SHUTTING OUT AMERICAN VESSELS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—A Montreal special says: A circular was received from Ottawa yesterday morning by the custom authorities at this port, in reference to the coasting trade between the United States and Canada, and which, if enforced, will stop American vessels, not properly registered, from carrying cargoes between Canadian ports. This circular is to the effect that owing to numerous seizures recently made by officers of the special agents' branch, it is believed that great latitude is allowed on the part of collectors and other officers, in connection with the traffic carried on by small boats between Canada and foreign ports. Great vigilance in enforcing the laws is insisted on, and special attention is called to the fact that it is unlawful to import goods from any place out of Canada in any vessel not duly registered and with a certificate of registry on board. Only British vessels, or those belonging to foreign powers who are in treaty with Great Britain, the circulars further state, can compete for the coasting trade of Canada, and in future vessels from the United States, there being no treaty now with that country, must not be allowed to go from one Canadian port to another for cargoes.

THE EAST SIDE.

PROBABLY INSANE.

A woman probably 60 years of age, rather poorly clad, was seen yesterday evening by Uncle Jimmy Stephens and a man in the employ of John O'Brien to walk deliberately into the river until the water reached her shoulders, and then return to the shore. Mr. Stephens, who had watched her strange actions, went down to where she was and asked her if she wanted to drown herself, and she replied: "Yes, I find it in the bible, but it is too cold." He told her there was nothing of the kind in the bible. He then went towards the house to get his man to go and look after her, but when the man got there she had gone away and could not be found.

WEDDING.

The following, which is taken from the Ohio Eagle, a newspaper published at Lancaster, Ohio, will be of interest to many of the young people of East Portland and Salem:

Keeran-Fahrer.—At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Charles Fahrer, August 22d, by Rev. James F. Beats, Dr. Reuben B. Keeran, of Illinois, to Miss Annie Fahrer, late of Oregon.

The bride was formerly employed as teacher at the Indian school near Salem, and after leaving there was a guest at the residence of Rev. E. F. Ingle in this city, during which time she made many warm friends, who will wish her much joy in married life.

AN OWNER WANTED.

A little over a week ago, a gunny sack containing the following articles was left at the foot of the stairway in the center of Joseph Burkhard's building, formerly the Home Hotel, but at present unoccupied. One pillow, a steel pick, a small block and tackle, a box of cartridges, a brown diagonal overcoat, an oiled skin coat, a log book, a package of candy, two school books purchased at Beasly Bro's, a morning OREGONIAN of Aug. 28th, some German papers, and last but not least, a small demijohn about two-thirds full of some kind of liquor which smells very much like whisky. To-day the city marshal took the sack and contents into his possession until the owner calls to claim it. Several of the articles found in the sack would indicate that it was the property of some returned miner.

TELEGRAPH OFFICE REOPENED.

The Western Union telegraph office in the I. street depot building was reopened for the transmission and reception of messages yesterday. It is to be hoped our merchants and business men will patronize the office on this side the river, so that it will pay them to keep it open.

ADDRESS

To the Citizens of the State of Oregon and the Northwest The trials and perils of nations and individuals alike appeal to the broader sympathies of humanity and the cry of an oppressed nation for aid toward the attainment of her political freedom should receive a patient hearing from a free people The people of Ireland in their present struggle to secure local self government and larger liberties lay before the world a history of centuries of oppression suffering and wrong without parallel under the domination of an alien race The conquest of Ireland by England was accomplished by perfidy and massacre and her ascendancy maintained by a policy of barbarity and extermination By successive wars and persecutions dauntlessly by a deathless resistance to the greed and violence of her conquerors Ireland blessed by nature with exhaustless material resources was repeatedly laid waste with fire and sword by which every vestige of her ancient civilization and greatness perished An intelligent, courageous and enterprising people were deprived of their lands and property their laws legislature liberties—even their right to live They became outlawed on their native soil and were hunted and decimated like wild beasts In order to insure the degradation of the people it was enacted that no Irish man should learn to read and a price was put on the heads of Irish schoolmasters and priests Landless friendless disarmed disorganized disfranchised ignorant and forgotten without a voice to defend the Irish were misrepresented in English books and newspapers at home and abroad and public opinion systematically poisoned against him

But through revolutions social and political which has taken away from Ireland her laws her language her native institutions—through all this degrading enslavement the Irish people have cherished their traditions of ancient civilization and glory Law has cursed the spirit of patriotism and clung to their aspirations of freedom and self government

Irish commerce and industries were strangled and destroyed that English merchants might prosper and dependent on agriculture alone Ireland has during the past century been visited with appalling famines in which millions of human beings have perished and untold miseries entailed upon the people The vampire of a feudal landlordism sucks her life blood and smothers her energies and under existing conditions with the recurrence of every season comes the menace of another famine Appeals to the British parliament for remedial legislation have been treated with contempt, and agrarian crime and chronic discontent are the outcome of this treatment

The famine of 1879 brought the land league into existence and produced Parnell and Davitt and the nationalist party, composed of all classes and creeds and conditions of people Parnell and his colleagues in parliament including a score of the brightest and best minds of the century have directed the effects of English misrule in Ireland up to the civilized world and have demonstrated the unfitness of English statesmen to legislate for Ireland. The new party aided by the scattered children of the race in every land have in the past six years saved thousands of human lives arrested wholesale evictions restrained the tyranny of landlords preserved social order and produced beneficent reforms But the land or other reforms are ineffectual without an honest or impartial administration of the law

A home government and separate autonomy are the only assurance of a permanent settlement of Irish difficulties and this the Irish people ask as an act of political justice The reasonableness and popularity of the demand for home rule has won the approval and advocacy of Gladstone the greatest living English statesman, and was endorsed by over a million English votes at the late election

The British government is once more in the hands of the hereditary foes of Ireland, whose policy is announced in the cry of "Manacles and Manitoba." During the late political contest, and for the past six years and on every occasion of need the people of Ireland have been sustained and encouraged by the sympathy of her sons and friends in every land—those of America in particular Being children of patriots who died for freedom, the sympathy of America has refreshed and revivified the drooping spirits of the Irish nation in her day of disaster and defeat. And Ireland gratefully acknowledges her debt to the people and the free press of America.

Rising from the ashes of her defeat to renew freedom's battle the Irish nation calls upon her friends in America once more Let Americans not forget that in the darkest hour of their struggle for independence against the same British power they called upon and received substantial aid from the people of other lands without which their independence would never have been achieved America's appeal to Ireland on that occasion was not in vain. She now in turn asks Americans to aid her in her parliamentary warfare for constitutional rights with their approval, encouragement and substantial sympathy Citizens of Portland Americans of the state of Oregon and the Northwest will this appeal, addressed to you on this occasion be made in vain? Ireland, speaking across the dividing waters to America, pleads and says Deliverer God has anointed thee to free the oppressed and crush the oppressor

When We Demoralize the Stomach

By excesses or imprudence in eating we cannot hope to escape the consequences for any great length of time The most robust digestion must succumb to abuses of that important function. But supposing that we have been foolish enough to enfeeble the stomach is the damage irreparable? By no means The dyspeptic has only to do two things to insure his ultimate recovery First, he should adopt an easily digestible diet. Second he should use with regularity and persistence Hostetter's Stomach Bitters the leading gastric invigorant of the age The multiform symptoms of dyspepsia and the almost invariably attendant disorders biliousness and constipation will assuredly cease to persecute the sufferer if the above advice is attended to. Who that has suffered the torments that chronic indigestion inflicts will neglect to take advantage of a remedy which, if the most positive evidence of the medical profession and the public is to be received with due credence, is an absolute specific for the complaint

THE T STREET EXTENSION

To the Mayor and Common Council Gentlemen In pursuance of a resolution directing me to examine and report to the council the present condition of the proceedings in the matter of extending and establishing T street I beg to report that I have made such examination and find that on the 7th day of May 1883 proceedings were instituted by the council to extend T street from the center line of North Eighteenth street westerly to the Balch county road and thence northwesterly following such county road to the St Helens county road and that the city surveyor, by direction of the council made a survey of said proposed extension and street and marked the boundaries thereof in a report filed May 1[illegible] 1884 which was adopted by the council by ordinance

That viewers were thereupon appointed to view the proposed street and an estimate of damages and benefits sustained and according to the several tracts of land along the line of said street that the viewers filed a report in the matter which was adopted July 16, 1884, by ordinance and no appeals were ever taken by any person from said viewer's report

That all persons who were awarded damages in excess of benefits for property taken for said street between the center line of North Eighteenth street and the west line of North Twenty third street have as I am informed by the auditor and clerk received warrants therefor and been paid said damages and all persons between said last named points who were assessed benefits in excess of damages have paid the same into the T street fund excepting the Northern Pacific manufacturing company, assessed $150 benefits in excess of damages, which sum not being paid a warrant was issued against the property benefited, and the same sold by the chief of police to the city, and also the north half of block No 93 in Couch's addition assessed benefits in the sum of $78 which not being paid properly was in like manner sold to the city That the owners of the tract of land known as the Balch claim through which said street extends westerly from the west line of North Twenty third street were awarded damages for the portion of said claim taken for said street in the sum of $18 37 [illegible] and assessed benefits thereon in like sum

That on the 31st day of March 1885 Louis Goldsmith Max Goldsmith L W Gilliland Seneca Smith Anna Hamilton W B Walker and Emma Dickinson owners as tenants in common of the Balch claim commenced a suit in the state circuit court to enjoin further proceedings in the matter of opening said street through said claim The case was tried on demurrer to the complaint and the court held the proceedings illegal on the ground mainly that the same were conducted against [illegible] as owners thereof instead of in the names of persons owning said claim The result of this case was reported by me to the council several months ago and since that time nothing further has been done in the matter I am of the opinion that the council could legally declare the street opened and established from the center line of North Eighteenth street to the west side of North Twenty third street extended but if it is deemed important to continue the street on through the Balch claim at present it will be necessary to commence the proceedings as to that portion of the street anew A H TANNER, City Attorney

NEW ORDINANCES

Introduced by Councilman Forbes by request authorizing a contract with J F Morey and his assigns for a period of two years to light the streets of the whole of the city of Portland with 6[illegible] incandescent electric lamps at a cost of $18,[illegible] per annum read twice and referred to the committee on judiciary with an invitation to all the councilmen to attend the meeting of the committee [The proposition of Mr Morey appears elsewhere over his signature]

On the reading of the ordinance Councilman Fliedner immediately jumped to his feet with the remark that vessels were already taxed to death and we had not too much commerce now, and should not try to drive it all away The man who would introduce such an ordinance was an enemy to the interests of the city of Portland

Gerdes said the city was poor, and the object was to raise money to dredge the Willamette river It was the custom to tax vessels this way all over the world and the vessels had as well pay this way as in another

Fliedner said if our citizens hadn't ambition enough to clean out our harbor, Portland ought to go down We shouldn't go on a begging expedition all over the world

THE STREET LIGHTING PROPOSITION

PORTLAND, Sept 1

To the Editor of THE OREGONIAN

In order that the public may understand my proposition to the council for lighting the city with incandescent electric lamps, I ask permission to make a statement in your paper

The [illegible] Light and Power Company [illegible] have a contract with the city for its street lighting, which does not expire until next spring Under that contract the city is lighted with [illegible] and [illegible] lamps of which number [illegible] are [illegible] lamps at $[illegible] [illegible] lamps for which the city pays $[illegible] per year This contract has never been wholly satisfactory to the public nor to the company [illegible] that the main streets [illegible] brilliantly lighted while the [illegible] has been comparatively poorly lighted The Portland Gas company has never been able to light a portion of the street lamps because of the lack of mains in a great part of the city Nearly two years ago when the present contract [illegible] into more than [illegible] of the street lamps burned coal oil

[illegible] the whole city with arc lights would be [illegible] A general system of electric lighting suitable for street lamps at comparatively cheap has been made possible by the inventions of [illegible] for the use of whose patents I with others have obtained for Portland It is the intention of the company which I represent to perfect a system of both arc and incandescent lighting [illegible] superior [illegible] to that of any other American city

We now offer to light the entire city by placing incandescent lamps of [illegible] candle power at the intersection of all streets crossing First and Third streets between and inclusive of Market and [illegible] streets [illegible] described [illegible] power and where the [illegible] incandescent [illegible]

When it is considered that the largest gas [illegible] burner [illegible] the [illegible] burner—when giving its best light is [illegible] less than [illegible] candle power you may judge of the light that will be given [illegible] We offer to maintain and keep in repair all lamps for the same money that the city now pays for lighting the streets The city is to be at no expense in making the change that is to be borne by us. Any new lamp that is hereafter ordered by the council for improved streets west of Third street we will maintain at a cost not to exceed that now paid for [illegible] burners

The council now has power to contract for no longer period than two years It may well be asked how we can afford to put in so large a plant and at such great cost for so short a period The answer is this We expect to give such general satisfaction that there will be no doubt of the renewal of the contract

The company I represent is composed of progressive men who have faith in the future of Portland and they are therefore willing to make this investment if the [illegible] and the general public are disposed to give us a chance Of course we recognize that too often Portland rather opposes than helps new enterprises. It is now in the power to accept or reject our proposition The profit is not sufficient to make us enter into a fight for the contract

The long days of our winter are now near at hand If the council will make the contract so that we can establish our lines before the wet weather begins we will proceed at once with the erection of our plant J F MOREY

ANOTHER RAILROAD TO COEUR D'ALENE

Spokane Review Aug 31

The above is the name of the new branch of the Northern Pacific railroad upon which work will begin to day which leaves the main line at a point two and a half miles east of the Idaho line and will have Coeur d'Alene for its terminus The branch is to be thirteen and a half miles in length It strikes across the prairie leaving Little Falls about a mile to the south skirts the military reservation and will terminate near the present steamboat landing where extensive wharves will be constructed At some future time a spur will be run down to Little Falls The road traverses a very level and easily worked stretch of country there not being on an average 5000 yards of earth to move to the mile The construction of this road will be under the immediate charge of Paul [illegible] Mohr who is just the right man in the right place He proposes to start the work going to day and will put on as many men as he can employ He says he will have the line ready for operation within thirty days and he will By the 1st of October one can go by rail to Coeur d'Alene City take the steamer for Mission board the cars at that point and be in Wardner in a few hours after leaving this city The completion of this new enterprise will be a great benefit to the South Fork country as it will expedite the development of that mineral field which shows every indication of being one of the richest in the entire country It will also be advantageous to the business interests of Spokane Falls as this place will be the supply depot of that vast region for all time to come It adds another branch to the system of railroads radiating from this city which system is sure to be added to in the near future by roads to the north and westward

TO RUSH MAIL MATTER.

The Special Delivery to Extend to Every United States Postoffice.

After October 1 the Government will Go into the Express Business and Deliver Packages as Well as Letters.

Yesterday Postmaster Roby received from Post master General Vilas a circular of instructions regarding the act of congress of August 4, 1886, extending the special delivery system On and after October 1 1886, every postoffice in the United States and territories and the District of Columbia now established and which will be established while the act remains will be designated as a special delivery office and the special delivery will extend to everything that goes into the mails provided the letter or parcel bears the special 10 cent delivery stamp in addition to the regular postage

Following are the principal provisions and the instructions to postmasters

Such immediate delivery must be made when the article is directed to any addressee residing or having a place of business within one mile of the post office The obligation to so deliver does not extend to an address beyond that distance but the postmaster will be at liberty to make such delivery beyond such limits and receive the compensation therefor as in any other case It is commended to him as a proper and considerate thing to be done in accommodation of the sender whenever it is reasonably convenient

The hours within which immediate delivery shall be made shall be at least from 7 A M to [illegible] P M and further until the arrival of the last mail provided that such arrival be not later than [illegible] P M Postmasters are not required to make delivery of special delivery matter on Sunday, nor to keep their offices open in any different manner on that day from what is now provided by the regulations Postmasters will be at liberty however to deliver special delivery letters and parcels arriving on Sundays Such immediate delivery made at third and fourth class offices may be made by the postmaster himself by any assistant or clerk or by any other competent person he may employ as messenger The postmaster must provide the means and [illegible] the expenses of such delivery and [illegible] allowed by whatever suitable person the delivery be made the full compensation of 80 per cent of the face value of all special delivery stamps on matter properly delivered by him [illegible] and recorded The service contemplated by the law requires that all special delivery matter shall reach the address with the greatest possible expedition after it arrives at the [illegible]

Postmasters should therefore open all mails at once on their arrival as is required by the regulations and immediately separate the matter bearing special delivery stamps and stamp or write on the envelope or wrapper the name of the [illegible] and the date and hour when the matter arrives Next the matter must be numbered and entered according to number in a record as hereinafter provided after which it must be delivered without loss of time Like diligent attention must be given to drop or local matter bearing special delivery stamps from the time it is deposited in the post office

Special delivery matter must be delivered to the addressee or to any one authorized to receive his mail matter

In the case of registered matter received for special delivery the usual registry receipts in addition to the special delivery receipts, must be taken and all other requirements of the registry regulations must be observed

For every special delivery article delivered the postmaster must take a receipt from the party receiving it and all receipts for matter delivered during any quarter must be sent as vouchers to the auditor at the end of such quarter with the postmaster's account current for that quarter

Registered matter will be entitled to special delivery the same as ordinary matter when bearing the special delivery stamp in addition to the full postage and registry fee required by law and regulations In dispatching registered letters that bear special delivery stamps the postmaster should write conspicuously across the registered package envelope the words "for special delivery"

Special delivery stamps are to be sold by postmasters in any required amount and to any person who may apply for them but they can be used only for the purpose of securing the immediate delivery of matter Under no circumstances are they to be used in the payment of postages of any description or of the registry fee, nor can any other stamps be employed to secure special delivery except the special delivery stamp at offices where the free delivery has been established The hours within which immediate delivery shall be made will be from 7 A M to 11 P M, unless in special cases otherwise ordered by the postmaster general This requirement as to the hours of delivery does not necessarily extend to the transaction of any other postal business after the usual office hours The law provides that the postmaster general may contract for the immediate delivery of all articles from any postoffice at any price less than eight cents per piece when he shall deem it expedient Postmasters at free delivery offices will therefore forward any propositions which they receive from corporations or other reputable parties for performing the immediate delivery of mail matter at their respective offices with a statement of all the facts in each case and such recommendations as they may see proper to make in the matter

COMMERCIAL.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 1.

Overland receipts include 125 sks peanuts, car stoves, 1 0 sks sides, 20 ctes bacon, 200 csks beer, car plows, car machinery, 6000 cs tank car coal oil, 1 hf bbls, 1 cs candy, 50 bxs soap, 600 cs corn, 100 cs oysters, 3 kgs, 1 bbl whisky, 30 organs, 44 cs boots and shoes, 16 cs rubbers, 2 cs underwear, 1 cs towels, 12 cs hats, 7 cs clothing, 1 cs neckwear, 20 bls, 6 cs bagging, 1 bl yarn, 8 cs millinery, 3 cs dry goods, 5 sks seed, 23 trunks, 1 cs flannels, 3 cs hosiery, 14 cs dry goods, 15 bls oilcloth, 25 wash machines, 5 cs cigars, 3 ctes, 146 bdls spokes, 57 cs axes, 25 cs lanterns, 6 bxs, 4 bbls lamp stock, 2 bdls, 11 sets wheels, 40 cs ox shoes, 20 cs coffee mills.

During the calendar month just passed produce receipts were generally much lighter than for same month last year. Wheat, oats, barley, wool and fruit marked the largest falling off, wheat receipts alone being 16,565 tons less. Flour increased 5,102 bbls, and oats decreased 36,1 4 centals. Wool fell off nearly one-half. Outward shipments have necessarily been light. Lime receipts increased 1,145 bbls, although a large part of the trade is now supplied by the home works. This gives evidence of a large building business now. Millstuffs have been in larger receipt because of shipments to San Francisco this season. Barley is in greatly lessened movement because of a poor market, but oats have commanded very good prices without attracting [illegible] ers. During the middle part of the month leading lines were in good feeling, and all markets seemed in a condition that would allow good prices if not better ones than then ruled. At the close there is much disappointment felt as the grain, wool and hop markets are traveling a down grade. The last two are not of any great interest for stocks are next to nothing and but a small part of the hop yield really belongs to the grower. Some have contracts that will be affected by the market from now on but the greater part of the yield has been contracted [illegible] right. This will cause the course of the market to be of little interest here. Fruit promises to bring fair prices [illegible] and orchardists will do well to save [illegible]. Last year thousands of boxes went to waste [illegible] advent of a demand there was no stock. Many [illegible] possess keeping qualities and [illegible] sooner or later be called for. Shipments [illegible] much more so than indicated by our figures for a [illegible] into that territory [illegible] of Minneapolis or [illegible] statements of exports [illegible] cars [illegible] of the Mississippi [illegible] to California. Prices are better [illegible] last year and [illegible] doubtless remain so. Dried fruits last year were poor property, but they [illegible] better this year. There is now an established [illegible] eastern trade in [illegible] and [illegible] Pennsylvania [illegible] more we [illegible] took several carloads. The Sound section [illegible] part of the [illegible]. Altogether the [illegible] of August [illegible] and the weakness in the many lines at this time can not but help to make September business lighter than last year.

The following is a comparative statement of running deliveries from English farmers, imports into the United Kingdom and [illegible] at the weeks ended as below:

PRODUCE RECEIPTS.—Past twenty-four hours: 5756 ctls wheat, 1655 ctls oats, 430 ctls barley, 3 sks potatoes, 100 lbs wool, 45 lbs hides, 8 [illegible] eggs, 27,500 lbs hops, [illegible] bxs fruit, [illegible] cs butter. Also 3690 ctls wheat, 85 lbs wool, 105 lbs hides, 120 bxs fruit, 3 cs eggs from the eastern section.

Receipts for the seven days ended Wednesday noon aggregated 35,053 ctls wheat, 3850 bbls flour, 6963 ctls oats, 1556 ctls barley, 5 6 ctls bran, [illegible] ctls millstuff, 64 sks potatoes, 0 sks onions, 134 [illegible] lbs wool, 67,073 lbs hides, 49 3[illegible] lbs hops, 1 1 sks flax seed, 484 cs eggs, 48 pkgs butter, 2,466 bxs fruit, including from the eastern section 54,016 ctls wheat, 770 bbls flour, 500 ctls barley, 7 545 lbs wool, 16,395 lbs hides. For the same week last year receipts in part were 146,504 ctls wheat, 3351 bbls flour, 23,163 ctls oats, 6085 ctls barley, 422 ctls millstuff, 276 sks potatoes, 134,902 lbs wool, 2[illegible] 13 lbs hides, 18 lbs hops, including from the eastern section 110,[illegible] ctls wheat, 1000 bbls flour, 800 ctls oats, [illegible] ctls barley, 48,560 lbs wool, 8052 lbs hides. The past week witnessed a material increase in the wheat arrivals from both sections and an increase in flour and oats from the valley. There is a good movement in green fruit. Arrivals noted of hops include two cars of [illegible] for Philadelphia. New are not yet available.

Receipts of leading articles [illegible] by principal routes of transportation [illegible] compared with the same period last year have been:

FREIGHTS.—The soft wood bark Carrier Dove has been taken up for grain loading by C [illegible] & Co, presumably at £3 6d for orders, this being the rate at which she was held. Other business may soon be looked for as the loading fleet is being dispatched. The Eurydice, Bessie Markham, Sarah S. [illegible], and Du[illegible]gan have been stricken from the en route list.

WHEAT.—English weather being all that could be desired the markets there continue easy and in poor tone. Here some buying is indulged in, buyers quoting $1 [illegible] for valley and paying more at competitive points. The little inquiry to complete cargoes is without material effect. Walla Walla grades still quoted $1 1[illegible]@1 1[illegible], the latter probably the extreme.

FLOUR.—Receipts for the week [illegible] bbls valley and 770 bbls Walla Walla, the latter mostly for shipment. In the month one vessel sailed foreign with [illegible] bbls and one cleared here with about 1,000 bbls. Rail shipments for the north for the month [illegible] bbls which is a liberal movement. The market presents a quiet front, values showing no decided sympathy with the easier tone to wheat. Valley standards are quoted $[illegible] less discounts and intermediate stocks are only fair.

OATS.—A [illegible] easier shipping market is felt here and bids have been lowered until a very choice lot is required to bring over [illegible]. Shippers are compelled to work on a San Francisco basis of $1 [illegible]@1 2[illegible] per cental. Receipts here for the week have exceeded demands and shipments necessitating the warehousing of some. Most dealers report ample stocks with some yet in the interior where buyers have lately worked above a parity with this or the San Francisco market. There is now [illegible] in the situation promising an early return of the better and the stronger holders are offering [illegible].

BARLEY.—The San Francisco market is [illegible] than a week ago. Receipts here of [illegible] would for brewing account, the sales being confined to [illegible] the interior.

PROVISIONS.—[illegible] of Eastern hams [illegible] and [illegible] every [illegible] demands for the most part [illegible] these. Bacon [illegible] is a scarce article [illegible] to quotations for city [illegible] higher than a week ago [illegible] strength than any other [illegible] market is to be noted [illegible] firm. Bacon [illegible] tern hams [illegible] 10[illegible]c [illegible].

DRIED FRUIT.—New [illegible] all stocks [illegible] are more [illegible] quote jobbing prices [illegible] Sun dried quarters [illegible] factory [illegible] 8c, graded [illegible] grapes [illegible] pears [illegible] choice raisins [illegible].

HAY.—An [illegible] market [illegible] choice new quoted [illegible]. Receipts and demands nothing [illegible].

POULTRY.—Market [illegible] chickens and consignments have [illegible] below the quotation of [illegible] prices are promised for a time. Other [illegible] occasion [illegible] for geese and [illegible] for ducks.

EGGS.—Stocks small but market dull at [illegible].

HOPS.—The [illegible] weather has [illegible] ripening and [illegible] week picking [illegible] to menced in earnest. There is some scarcity of help but with favorable weather none of the crop will be lost. Increased cost over previous expectations [illegible] at [illegible]c little or no profit. The markets [illegible] an easy tone and values are probably lower. Last business on the Sound was at not over 28c for new. Everywhere buyers and sellers hold off, neither caring to force business. As indicated last week future prices rest greatly upon the course taken by buyers. There is no great scarcity of supplies and the heavy shipments from Europe are a surprise. New York mail dates report as follows: "The market has relapsed into a state of dullness, prices have declined and are almost entirely nominal. The importation of German hops and the reshipment of American from Europe have been so heavy that the market has become partially demoralized. The receipts from abroad since the 15th of June amount to about 13,000 bales and the domestic receipts are about as much more. In view of the free arrivals from abroad particularly heavy during the past few days prices have materially declined, and fair state hops which have been held at [illegible]@28c have been offered down to 2[illegible]c and the best probably would not bring over 2[illegible]. In fact hops which have been held at 28@30c are offered at that figure. German hops command from 1[illegible] to [illegible] cents and California 18@ [illegible]c and all kinds are slow of sale and prices are nominal. Strictly choice are not offered, probably no one has any."

WOOL.—Receipts for the week have been 5[illegible] lbs valley and [illegible],545 lbs Eastern. Since April 1 the receipt has been 1,10[illegible],204 lbs valley and 11,508 [illegible] lbs Eastern—a total of 12,61[illegible],[illegible]70 lbs. In the same time shipments have been 4,845,[illegible]48 lbs to San Francisco and 6,[illegible]95,35[illegible] lbs eastward—a total of 11,641,[illegible]0 lbs. The market cannot be said to possess much of local interest for stocks are low both here and in the interior. Values are probably again weaker for advices are easier and nominally the range here would be 16@ [illegible]c. At San Francisco buyers now have a decided advantage and the market is weaker. At the East the tone is less healthy, although certain grades hold up in price. Manufacturers say they cannot make any considerable purchases except on the basis of some concession [illegible] confident in the conviction that there is [illegible] to induce a lower basis refuse [illegible] grant concessions on any but fine wools which are now freely offered at prices refused but a short time [illegible]. Foreign wool is held with confidence and [illegible] business has been at full [illegible] New York [illegible] 0,000 lbs Oregon sold at [illegible] and a Boston [illegible] were at 2[illegible]@ [illegible].

HIDES, ETC.—Fair business [illegible] at old prices. [illegible] seal [illegible] skins from the north [illegible] through for New York or England. We quote dry [illegible] 14 @15½c, light salted [illegible] dry kip and calf 14 @16c, salt kip 6@8, salt calf 8@10c, salt veal [illegible] deerskins [illegible] winter and summer [illegible] Oregon [illegible] for winter and summer, sheepskins [illegible] for short and long wool [illegible] $1 50[illegible] [illegible] $1 50 to $6. Tallow [illegible] for common and [illegible] choice.

The Merchandise Market

[illegible] days of the week under review [illegible] arrivals by rail [illegible] extremely light [illegible] they increased to such an extent as to bring about a fair weekly average. In the last day a greater number of carlots of stoves, furniture, machinery and farm implements were [illegible]. Steamer freights this way have not been full. The call is about as usual, presenting no features of striking interest. The promise of early rains [illegible] a reminder that the season for new farm work is at hand. Farmers are more than ever satisfied that fall sown grain does best, for it is not so much affected by spring and summer weather as is spring sown. Usually there is little danger of a freeze during winter. The outlook for the boot and shoe trade is good and demands are growing. Jobbers are receiving the last of their stock. San Francisco bakers have added the Medley biscuit to their list. It comprises thirty designs of birds, fish, animals, etc., and is quite attractive to young people. All canned goods are very firm with a strong tone. Peaches and pears will probably be short. Baltimore advices anticipate a heavy deficiency in the eastern fruit pack. Candles are in fair receipt. Clothing arrives freely and retailers are displaying new lines. Dry goods and millinery are falling off in receipt but demands are larger. Linseed oil is higher. The Noddleburn landed 300 short tons salt and stocks are now ample.

The Dunelm sailed during the week with 17,001 cases salmon for Liverpool, making two foreign sailings for the month with a total of 5 451 cases shipped. At Astoria the Ladstock and the Arthur Stone are in berth. San Francisco shipments were 11,52[illegible] cases and eastward shipments 63,200 cases during the month of August. The British Columbia second run commencing about the 2[illegible] ult. found the canneries closed. Some would reopen but late advices are meagre and indefinite. All markets are firm with an added inquiry from England.

The grain bag market rules weak. San Francisco quoting [illegible]. Here [illegible] and less will buy, and demand is lighter than anticipated. Steamer arrivals at San Francisco are lessening, while imports here rule light. Much of the quantity credited with being en route from the East must have had destination changed for only a small part of that named has been received here. The low prices are no little help to wheat holders.

The telegraph two weeks ago mentioned a stringency in the Eastern money markets. This has since been greatly modified and a much steadier [illegible] prevails. The shipments of gold from Europe [illegible] by the government and a conservative bank [illegible] made money plentiful. The advance [illegible] in the Bank of England rate has had a slight check upon the flow of gold this way. The European war cloud has a disturbing effect abroad, the money markets there finding no little excitement. The New York market is reported by mail [illegible] Brazil coffees ruled strong and active, a very large business up to [illegible] been accomplished at a still [illegible] advance in prices. Europe has controlled the situation [illegible] largely [illegible] A New York [illegible] purchased all stock here in hands of the syndicate and said to amount to 5,000 bags. Mild [illegible] were also in large business but at old rates. Cotton options have favored the buyer. Cable advices from Para caused holders of rubber to advance their prices. Refined [illegible] dull. New crop rice arrivals were light with a fair movement in old. Raw spot sugar ruled with rather better request and sellers were obtaining a slight advance. The request for refined closely absorbed supplies.

THE LOCAL MARKET.

BEANS.—The range is 1¾@[illegible]c and the market is steady. San Francisco dull at $1 10@.

COAL OIL.—Fair arrivals during the week. Trade is quiet. Ordinary brands quoted 25@[illegible]c.

SUGARS.—Whites advance [illegible] one quarter of a cent on Tuesday. Sixty day prices are C[illegible]c, extra C 5⅜c, confectioners A 6[illegible]c, dry granulated [illegible]c, cube, crushed and powdered 6[illegible]c, halves and boxes [illegible]@ higher. The call is quiet.

THE MEAT MARKET.

Supplies throughout are up to demands and the markets only steady or most kinds. Receipts for the week were 44 cattle and [illegible] sheep. Beef is quoted [illegible]@ [illegible]c gross or 6c dressed. Mutton rules easy at [illegible] gross and 5c dressed. Veal in [illegible] offering and firm at 9@10c. Hogs dull at 4c for live and [illegible] for dressed [illegible] not being [illegible].

August Foreign Exports

Six vessels cleared for foreign in the month with cargoes valued at $4,81[illegible]. Of these [illegible] wheat [illegible] one each cleared for Liverpool [illegible] while [illegible] was to Queens [illegible]. Wheat exports were as follows:

A Scientific Fact.

"Royal" the Only Baking Powder Free from Lime and Absolutely Pure.

Lime is the serious defect found in most of the cream of tartar baking powders. As a matter of fact, chemical analysis has found it in all such powders except the Royal. Its presence is caused by the use of adulterated cream of tartar in the effort to reduce their cost of production.

Lime adds to the weight while it detracts from the strength of the baking powder. It also renders the food less wholesome, giving rise to dyspepsia and kindred ailments. Baking powders containing lime produce less leavening gas and therefore in use are more expensive than a first class pure article.

The Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar that is first specially refined and made chemically pure. No tartrate of lime or other impurity can find its way into the Royal, and to this fact its great superiority in strength, wholesomeness and keeping quality is due.

All this adds greatly to the cost of manufacturing the Royal Baking Powder, but as all its ingredients are selected and prepared with the same precise care and regardless of labor or expense, an article is produced that is free from every extraneous substance, absolutely pure. Nor does it contain any ingredient except those necessary to make a pure, wholesome and perfect baking powder.

Prof. M. Martin, [illegible] chemist to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, after analyzing the cream of tartar used by the various baking powder [illegible] of the market, testifies to the absolute purity of that employed in the Royal Baking Powder as follows:

[illegible] examined the cream of tartar manufactured for and used by the Royal Baking Powder Company in their baking powder and find it to be perfectly pure and free from lime in any form.

Prof. Love, who made the analyses of baking powders for the N. Y. State Board of Health, as well as for the Government, certifies to the purity and wholesomeness of the Royal.

Dr. H. H. [illegible], [illegible] of the Brooklyn, N. Y., Department of Health, [illegible]:

[illegible] recently analyzed samples of the Royal Baking Powder purchased by myself in the stores of this city and find it free from lime in any form.

Bread, cake, biscuit, etc., prepared with Royal Baking Powder will be lighter, whiter and more wholesome than if made with any other baking powder or leavening agent.
